INVITATION TO THE LUDOVIKA SCHOLARS PROGRAM

13 February, 2023

To Whom It May Concern,

In 2022, Mr. Michał Jasiński, Ph.D. Lecturer submitted his application for the Ludovika Scholars Program, to be a guest lecturer at the University of Public Service (UPS) in Budapest, Hungary. Mr. Michał Jasiński, was among the selected candidates, therefore, I would like to invite him, to participate in the Program at UPS in the period between 27- 31. March, 2023.

The aim of the Ludovika Scholars Program is to provide citizens of the University of Public Service with the opportunity to exchange ideas with Central and Eastern European academics, researchers, and experts, and to enable visiting lecturers to learn about the work of scholars at the University as well as to develop stronger relationships with their partners. The Program will also enable successful applicants to spend a week giving public lectures, participating in workshops and taking part in professional discussions organized by the host faculties or research institutes.

As UPS is responsible for and covering all expenses (travel, accommodation and full board) related to the Program in Budapest, the participation is not posing any obligation for the selected scholar or the sending University.

I do hope Mr. Michał Jasiński will be able to attend the Ludovika Scholars Program, because I believe that the citizens at our University will benefit a lot from his participation in the Program and will help our students to gather more knowledge from a different point of view.

Yours sincerely,

Iván Gyurcsík, PhD.
Director of the Ludovika Scholars Program
